THE PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENT

By David L. Foutz

The legislature is in session again and the members are keyed for a month's program of debate, study and enactment of bills necessary to carry out the administration's program. There is much activity in the halls of the capitol, but somehow or other the crop of lobbyists seems to be smaller and those present are not as active as during the first session. The publicizing of the Philbrick report has had its effect and coupled with it is the fact that sitting in the governor's chair is a man who holds little regard for bills pushed through the legislature by lobbyists.

Governor Olson has served notice on all lobbyists that unless there is merit to their proposals and that the measures they seek to have passed will aid the common good of the state that he will veto them. When the administration changed hands the lobbyists lost a friend and found an enemy to lobbyists guiding the affairs of the state in Governor Culbert L. Olson.

New Appointments

Governor Olson last week made the following appointments: John C. Packard, Los Angeles attorney, was named as a member of the Industrial Welfare Commision for the four year term, succeeding C. C. Craig. Dr. Hubert Phillips, professor of political science at Fresno State college, and Leigh Athern, San Francisco attorney, were appointed to the Immigration and Housing commission. Membership on both commissions are non-salaried.

J. Frank Burke, owner of radio station KFVD, Los Angeles, and former publisher of the Santa Ana Register, was appointed to the State Board of Control. Burke was the Olson primary campaign manager.

Mary Burke King of Santa Ana was named as a member of the Board of Trustees of the California Institute for Women at Tehachapi. Her term expires January 15, 1943. She replaces Anna C. Law.

Professor Samuel C. May, head of the Bureau of Public Administration at the University of California at Berkeley, was appointed to fill the term of Harold English on the State Planning Board, expiring January 1, 1941. English resigned.

Mrs. Rae L. Shoemaker, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools was appointed to the State Board of Education, term expiring January 15, 1943. Mrs. Shoemaker is a graduate of the Universtiy of California and has been affiliated with teacher organizations and educational work in the state for many years. She replaces Arthur W. Eckmann of Los Angeles, whose term expired January 15, 1939.

Legislative Program

Governor Olson has made known to the legislature that he desires the planks in the Democratic State Platform to be enacted into laws at this session. "I do not intend to dictate to the legislators, but I will send them my views from time to time for their guidance.'

In speaking of the budget, the governor made it clear that the budget and the necessary tax bills must be enacted. "The tax program I have recommended to balance the budget is completely in line with the Democratic Platform and with my program as outlined in the primary and general election campaigns." The governor said. "Of course there will be opposition but that oposition will come from the interests who can afford to pay the taxes, and who, in the past, have side stepped them through loop holes in the laws. I propose to close loop holes so that the tax burden falls equally on all who can pay taxes."

The governor also proposes to have enacted a law which will create an auditing bureau to audit all funds and all departments. "I do not believe that any department should audit its own books, and that goes for the governor's office. If such a law cannot be passed, I request the controller to audit my special fund and my secret service fund annually and make public the figures. The expenditure of public monies must be made known to the public. I welcome this procedure."

Believing that the auditing should rest with the State Controller, an elective officer, the governor said, "there should be no independent audits — they should be made by the Controller who is elected and responsible to the people for his duties. If the Controller's office cannot properly handle this increased function, I shall recommend the creation and election of a State Auditor. This department will be charged with the complete responsibility of auditing all departments and funds regardless of the nature. The people are entitled to this service."

BUDGET CAUSES RIFT IN RANKS OF CIVIC BODY

Signed Pledges to Be Returned to Signees

"You take the low road and I'll take the high road" is the refrain the Ukiah Chamber of Commerce is singing, after two months of controversy over policy and budget matters, following a meeting Monday evening when it was voted that no further effort would be made to continue budget negotiations with the merchants' association, which two months ago was incorporated into the ranks of the Chamber of Commerce.

It was agreed by the Chamber of Commerce that all of the pledges subscribed would be returned to the signers and the situation explained and new pledges taken.

The merchants' association united with the Chamber of Commerce several months ago after considerable argument as to the advisability of such a move.

At the close of the Chamber of Commerce year in January, a program was outlined and a drive initiated. The drive did not produce as much funds as the combined budget required and the division of the funds pledged produced the rift.

The Chamber of Commerce will continue to operate as the city's civic body, maintaining the policy which has characterized the organization for a number of years.

George Wildberger, president of the board of directors of Ukiah Chamber of Commerce, tendered his resignation Wednesday to that body.

"My resignation is not tendered," Wildberger said, "in a spirit of discord, but rather that I am not in step with the present policy of the Chamber of Commerce and I believe that one who is in accord will serve that body better than I as a member of the directors.

"On the other hand, I know that what service I may be able to render to the community will be better given if I ally myself with the merchant group with which my interests and my policy coincide."

Wildberger was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce at the last annual election.

Court Room Packed For Rockey Trial

Not in many months has interest in any trial in the Superior court equalled that shown in the trial of Guy Rockey, Indian, now in progress.

A half hour before the doors of the court room were opened Wednesday afternoon, the hallway to the court was jammed and people were seated well down the stairs leading to the court room.

Court Reporter Hale Prather had difficulty in trying to force his way to the entrance and was allowed through the crowd only when the call of "gang-way for the court reporter" was heard.

An interesting feature in Wednesday's trial was the testimony of Court Reporter Hale Prather who was called as a witness for the prosecution and cross-questioned by the defense. Prather was under the necessity of taking down his own testimony for court records.

The defense called 20 witnesses Wednesday afternoon and continued testimony Thursday morning.

9-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Pt. Arena

Falls in Creek Near Home; Coast Guard Is Called

Dale Iverson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Iverson of Point Arena, was drowned on Sunday afternoon in the creek near his home. The tragedy occurred as Dale and his six-year-old sister, Betty, were playing on the bridge and Dale, in some way, lost his balance and fell into the water which is six or seven feet deep at that purticular spot.

Betty ran home and told her parents who rushed to the scene immediately but had some difficulty in rescuing the body. The coast guard was summoned and they worked for three hours with artificial respiration but were unable to bring back a spark of life.

Besides the grief stricken parents, Dale is survived by two sisters and one brother.

DEATHS EXCEED COUNTY BIRTHS

The Grim Reaper was 15 jumps ahead of the stork in Mendocino county during the month of February, when 40 deaths were recorded and 25 births certified.

Ukiah led the county in the death count, with a total of 13. Talmage deaths totaled nine, Fort Bragg seven, Willits and Mendocino three each, and Laytonville, Farley, Covelo, Comptche and Boonville one each.

Fort Bragg was first contender in the race with the stork, with a total of ten. Others were: Ukiah eight, Willits four, Hopland two, and Boonville one.

Notable in comparison of the births and deaths is the fact that births occurred in only five cities in the county, while death came to Mendocino county citizens in ten cities. In the total of 25 births, two were stillborn.

Young Democrats To Organize Here

The Young Democratic Club of Ukiah will hold its first organization meeting Tuesday evening, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

Grape Products Co.'s Liquor Hearing Reset; Kunzler Complaint Heard

Charged with having sold wine to Edward Poitz of the Vine Auto Court north of Ukiah, for resale, when Poitz only held an on sale beer license, the California Grape Products company's hearing before the State Board of Equalization was held over Tuesday when examiners were unable to take the matter up after holding a hearing on the complaints against Ralph Kunzler, Boonville tavern proprietor.

The Grape Products case was held over to a later date when State Board of Equalization Referee E. A. MacDonald, and L. C. Phillips, liquor control office head, called the case at one o'clock and no one appeared. The case was originally set for 10:00 a. m., but with two more hearings scheduled for Santa Rosa Tuesday afternoon, MacDonald reset the date rather than wait while the interested parties were called in to the meeting.

The results of the Kunzler hearing will not be known for at least two weeks, MacDonald stated.

The Kunzler hearing was called after Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bivens, of Boonville, had made complaints that the tavern of Kunzler's was a public nuisance. They contended that the loud noise eminating from his place at night kept them awake, as their home is just under 100 feet from the bar.

Kunzler, through his attorney, Newell Rawles, contended that the Bivens had been unfriendly toward him from almost the day that he had entered business at the location.

Witnesses appearing in behalf of Kunzler were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Silva, Frank Cook, Max Rawles, Kent Wallach, Robert Batterson, Maurice Tindall, George Rhinehart, Bob Hutzell, Leslie Nesson, Russell Tolman, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Kunzler.

Appearing with Mr. and Mrs. Bevins were: Mrs. Nina Vallier, from whom Kunzler had bought the property, Mrs. Pearl Dutra, and Mrs. Edna Ketchum.

Harold Elliott, former local equalization board member here, testified to the fact that he had had to warn Kunzler once about minor law infractions.

Talmage Ball Club To Hold Dance Sat.

With Oliver Pacini and his orchestra providing the music, the Talmage baseball club will hold their second benefit dance of the year at the Mendocino State hospital this Saturday evening. He also states that this will be one of the best dances of the year, inasmuch as it will serve as a sort of warm-up for the first workout the team will hold Sunday afternoon.

Ferrell's Hardware Store in Boonville Robbed by Youths

Sheriff E. L. Williams Traced Boys to Petaluma and Confession Was Secured Including Series of Robberies

Three Berkeley youths, taken into custody in Petaluma, confessed to the robbery of the Ferrell hardware store in Boonville Wednesday night, according to Sheriff E. L. Williams, who went to Petaluma with Ferrell to question the boys.

A double license on their car parked in front of the leading hotel in Petaluma Wednesday night roused the suspicions of the Petaluma police, who took the youths into custody and secured a confession of a series of car thefts and robberies in northern California.

A daring, daylight robbery was perpetrated in Boonville about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the cash register of Albert Ferrell's hardware store was robbed of $140. The robber is alleged to be one of three Oakland youths who had camped since Saturday last at River Rest, a few miles north of Boonville on the Greenwood road.

Sheriff Williams traced the youths to Cloverdale where they abandoned the Ford coupe, stealing the car of B. M. Dillingham, a 1937 Plymouth sedan, which was parked in front of the Cloverdale school. The theft of the Dillingham car was sent out on the teletype and the Petaluma authorities picked up the car and three youths at a late hour Wednesday night.

Sheriff Williams, accompanied by Albert Ferrell, have gone to Petaluma to ascertain whether the youths held in that city are the same who pulled off the robbery in Boonville.

According to the report of Ferrell to Sheriff E. L. Williams, the three youths came into Boonville shortly before the robbery. The car in which they were traveling stopped in front of the home of H. J. June where two of the boys got out, the third driving the car to the service station which adjoins the Ferrell store and which Ferrell serves. One of the two boys who alighted at June's home walked toward the Ferrell store, apparently to join the youth in the car.

Asks Service

The boy in the car asked Ferrell to adjust a broken windshield. While Ferrell was endeavoring to give this service, the buzzer which announces a customer in the store rang and, advising the autoist to consult a mechanic as Ferrell was unable to adjust the windshield, he returned to the store.

Entering, he was somewhat surprised to find the store empty, and recalled afterwards that he had seen a young man come around the corner of the store and walk in the direction in which the youth in the car had driven. The incident did not impress itself on his mind until about 20 minutes later when, having occasion to open the cash register, he was short $140.

Desert Camp

Sheriff E. L. Williams and Deputy Sheriff Ben Waldo rushed to Boonville as soon as the report of the robbery was received, the youths had deserted their camp in haste, as evidenced by the fact that they had left behind them their clothes, a stock of groceries, rifle and other articles of some value.

The three youths arrived at River Rest Saturday and, to Harold Price with whom they dealt at the camp, they purported to be the sons of an Oakland banker. They were driving a big Buick sedan. Among the articles left behind were checks signed by the name "Dennis," the possible owner of the Buick car, according to authorities.

Harold Price told Sheriff Williams that the boys had left River Rest Monday morning and had returned Wednesday morning, driving a Ford coupe instead of the Buick.

BERKELEY BOYS STAGE SERIES OF THEFTS, ROBBERY

Youths of Fourteen, Fifteen Years, Confess

Donald Clark, 15, 1712 Channing Way, Jack Holdsworth, 15, 1631 Harmon street, and Bob Hiebner, 14, 3024 Harper street, all of Berkeley, confessed to the robbery of Ferrell's hardware store in Boonville Wednesday night and told the authorities, according to Sheriff E. L. Williams, a tale of car thefts and robberies extending over a period of a fortnight.

Stealing a Ford V-8 in Berkeley, February 28, they abandoned the car on the Tunnel Road and went to San Jose where they stole a Buick sedan. Returning to Berkeley they burglarized a home in that city and drove to Rio Vista where they robbed a general merchandise store, repeating the robbery of the same store the following night, getting money, clothing and ammunition.

At Rio Vista they abandoned the Buick and stole an Oldsmobile, driving to Sacramento where they again changed cars and went to Red Bluff where they pulled off a robbery.

From Red Bluff they went to Anderson Valley where the robbery of Ferrell's store led to their arrest and confession.

Spending Ferrell's money they stayed overnight at one of the leading hotels in Petaluma and were picked up by the police Thursday morning when they went to the car.

Biggar to Propose Prorate Exemption

In an effort to gain a solution of the grape prorate situation, Senator G. M. Biggar states that he will probably introduce a new bill in the legislature proposing exemption of two tons of grapes per acre from provisions of the prorate.

According to Biggar, the average tonnage per acre of grapes in this area is approximately two tons, so that the growers of the northern counties which have opposed the prorate would be benefitted.

The Red Bandwagon

"By their signs ye shall know them!"

Americans can keep tabs with profit on the legislative menu the Communists would like to dish out and make required feeding for all of us—if they got the chance.

Here, for the sake of the record, is some of the legislation that has won the glad hand of their approval. Some of it they cooked up themselves, ready to serve Red-hot. Other proposals are left-overs, borrowed from somebody else's kitchen. Knowing what legislation is Communist-endorsed should make us so much the wiser, and keep us from being its unwitting allies. This, then, is what the Red bill of fare calls for:

No curtailing of WPA activities at any cost.

No amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Double—or treble—estate and gift taxes. Increase the undisturbed profits tax. Tax all securities, even including government issues. Legislate all chain stores out of existence. Abolish the present credit system and nationalize all banks.

As this program indicates, outright clamor for a revolutionary class war is, for the moment, being soft-pedaled. Given the right opportunity, of course, the drums of class hate will again be sounded, for the objective remains the same—the destruction of capitalist democracy. That much is made clear in the noisy approval given every measure on the above program which would conceivably hasten the nation's financial bankruptcy, and bring with it the downfall of democratic government.

To be forewarned is to be fore-armed. To know on what bandwagon the revolutionary followers of Marx are riding, is to have a clearer idea of just where the bandwagon is heading.

To Honor Or To Obey?

Who hasn't wondered about those apparently conscientious citizens who take the trouble to register and then fail to vote?

One of New Mexico's legislators, Miss Margaret Neal, seems to have been wondering about the same thing. She proposes a law that would fine every registered citizen from $5 to $25 if he fails to vote.

This solution to the problem is now, but the principle behind it is not. The idea that people can be made into better citizens by passing an arbitrary edict is some thousands of years old, and it hasn't worked out too successfully. Blame it on a cussed streak of the Old Adam, blame it on poor education, blame it on what you will, the best-intentioned laws have not yet brought us into Utopia.

As for threatening citizens with punishment if they fail to vote, it's doubtful if America's founders would agree with the principle involved. It took centuries of struggle for citizens to win the right to vote. In having the right to vote freely we are the fortunate beneficiaries of a long-fought battle for more democracy. To vote is a privilege, and to enjoy it as an honor, rather than obey it as a duty, is the function of good citizenship!

CONSERVATION KEY NOTE OF CCC WORK

The Civilian Conservation Corps on the Mendocino National Forest has played no little part in the work of conserving our natural resources in the six years since its inception in 1933. Much of the work accomplished on the Forest since 1933 would not have been possible had it not been for these youths.

One of the outstanding achievements of the CCC boys is the record they have established in suppressing timber and brush fires. Under the supervision of their foremen and the Forest Service personnel, they have fought over 220 fires which burned over a total area of 14,3[illegible] acres in the period 1933-35.

They have worked on 300 miles of telephone line network connecting the lookout system of the Forest.

The labor of building approximately 150 miles of roads, to provide easier access for the transporting of men and supplies to some of the most hazardous portions of the Forest, has been performed by the CCC boys.

One hundred and ninety-eight miles of firebreaks have been built by the boys, to divide the large brush fields into smaller areas and afford a better opportunity to stop devastating fires.

The landscaping of the Paskenta, Stonyford and Upper Lake Ranger Stations is another of their accomplishments.

In addition to the foregoing projects the enrollees are constantly doing such jobs as road drainage, campground cleanup, roadside clean up, burning of brush piles, digging wells, and other work needed in the maintenance of the Forest.

In all of their work it must be remembered that the CCC boys are under the constant supervision and guidance of able and skilled foremen, most of whom are local men.

In the six years of the CCC, aside from the conservation work the boys have accomplished—and of more importance—is the benefit that has accrued to the boys themselves. The fact that they are doing real work for a real cause has strengthened their self reliance, their morale, and their physique.

Those in attendance were the entire Willits fire department, of which Mayor Whitney was the first fire chief and Basilio Quadrio a charter member, Chief of Police Thom and wife, Willits city councilmen and wives, Judge C. A. Larson and many others. Judge W. D. L. Held of Ukiah was the speaker of the day and was accompanied to Willits by Mrs. Held.

News Notes from Covelo

COVELO, March 9.—Miss Helen and Jack Hogshead drove up from the bay district and spent the week end at their home here, returning after business matters. They returned Sunday afternoon, Jack to his law practice in San Francisco and Miss Hogshead to her duties as instructor of history in the Sunnyvale high school.

The Roy Storie family is again at home in their own home, Mrs. Storie having relinquished her lease on the Thomson property and cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Brush are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born Monday, March 6, at the home here. This is the second child of the family, the other being a boy. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Don Brush are the grandparents.

George Winkler, R. D. Foote, and J. B. Brown were in the valley from Monday to Wednesday looking after the conservation program of Round Valley ranchers, and a drainage project. Truman Lowry, local man in charge of conservation, was also helping with the routine.

A. N. Moore has been appointed clerk of the Round Valley high school board of trustees for the unexpired term of two years to succeed Dr. John B. Hogshead, recently deceased, and who had held the office for over 30 years. Moore, proprietor of Moore's drug and fountain service business and retired postmaster, is well qualified to attend to the clerical work required of the office, and the appointment meets with universal approval.

Lee Slembrouck and Miss Helen Scheubeck recently slipped away to San Francisco where they were quietly married. As a honeymoon treat they visited the Golden Gate Exposition on Treasure Island, then took a motor trip to Monterey and Watsonville and spent several days at Palm Beach. They returned to Covelo last Tuesday and are now at home on the C. S. Foster ranch, which Mr. Slembrouck has had leased for a term of years. The popular bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scheubeck of Lake Mountain, is a graduate of the local high school and has spent her entire life in this vicinity except for the few years she was employed in a secretarial position in San Francisco. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Slembrouck and came to Round Valley several years ago. He is one of our most steady and industrious young farmers and bound to succeed. The newlyweds richly deserve all of the best of life that their many friends are wishing for them.

Russel Dunlap is ill, suffering from the effects of an attack of mumps followed by the flu.

The main activity of the valley these days is tree trimming in the orchards and tree topping of shade trees. The huge oak tree standing just west of the R. M. Anderson house has suffered a severe decapitation as a safety measure. C. S. Foster did the work, assisted by Robert Lovejoy and Clifford Johnston. The Andersons considered felling the tree to avoid future trimmings, then decided it was so much a part of the ranch that it could not be parted with. A good idea, especially as Conservation and Save-the-Trees Week is near at hand. The ancient spreading walnut trees on the Squires lot in town are next in line for a cut-back, and others will follow.

Mrs. Madelyn Moore returned from San Francisco Friday after spending a week there visiting her aunt, Mrs. Will Gilday.

Mrs. W. S. Osborne and Mrs. W. H. Ham returned from the bay district Thursday, where they had spent two weeks visiting relatives. Mrs. Osborn surprised her son, Delbert and family of San Anselmo, by arriving unannounced. She took in the World's Fair on Treasure Island and thoroughly enjoyed every moment of her visit. Mrs. Ham's visit was devoted to getting acquainted with her new grandson at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Ham, at Brisbane. Her stay was also, it goes without saying, a joyful one.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williamson were hosts at an enjoyable dinner party at their ranch home. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winters and children. Later Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes joined the group and a very pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed by all.

The Covelo Women's Improvement club enjoyed a delightful afternoon Saturday, March 4, at the hospitable home of Mrs. Henrietta Fitzhugh. Mrs. Beatrice Lovell, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Charlotte Ehling. Mrs. B. M. Johnston was acting secretary. Several matters of business were taken care of, including the election of officers for 1939-40.

Results of this election were: president, Mrs. Beatrice Lovell; vice-president, Mrs. Emma Rice; secretary, Mrs. Catherine Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. Henrietta Fitzhugh. Mrs. Lucile Biggar, on behalf of the building committee, presented a series of resolutions to be incorporated in the deed to the lot which is to be presented to the club by Mrs. Myrtle Rohrbough. These resolutions were all acted upon favorably by the members present. It was also reported that the committee had agreed upon tentative plans for the clubhouse and it was voted to have an architect estimate the cost of such a building, to be reported on in the near future, at which time it is hoped to have the contract present for an open discussion and a vote by ballot.

A communication was read from Manager J. L. Manley to the effect that he would be glad to show a movie dealing with forest conservation at the next meeting of the club on March 18. This offer was gratefully accepted by a unanimous vote.

After the business session Mrs. Fitzhugh served tea and delicious tea cakes, and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

Montell Holds Club Spellbound With Rapid Talk

Speaking at the rate of 250 words per minute, Doug Montell, famous radio announcer, held the members of the 20-30 club spellbound Tuesday evening when he revealed to them some of the mysteries of broadcasting. According to Montell, the average person can talk at the rate of about 100 words a minute, then he proceeded to demonstrate how he could do 250 words a minute and still be understandable.

Montell revealed to the club members some of the highlights and problems of broadcasting a football or basketball game. He told how, after a few plays, a sportscaster can almost entirely disregard the number on a player's jersey and follow him more by his own special mannerisms, such as running with head thrown back, or rubbing his hand across his face when his number is called.

Every player has some peculiar characteristic which if one follows the game closely becomes easily distinguishable, he stated.

Harry Hilts was chairman of the evening for the meeting, which was held in the Maple cafe Tuesday evening.

Rise in Beer Production Aids Coast Hop Men

Because of a decided upswing in the output of malt liquors, the Federal-State Market service in San Francisco announced Tuesday that hop growers were feeling benefits from the rise.

Market bureau reports showed that the January output rose to 3,642,338 barrels from the production 3,574,004 in January a year ago. Seasonal output though, for the seven months ending January 31, showed a decrease from the 31,967,013 produced last year as against the 29,322,156 barrels credited this year.

Markets for hops stood still, the service reports, last week. A few struggling sales in Washington brought 23 cents a pound on the 1938 crops. Most Pacific coast growers were asking 24 cents to 25 cents for supplies held under the government loan. Contracting for the 1939 crop went ahead slowly.

Films Unfold Science Secrets

In spite of a spring torrent of rain, approximately 50 people attended the opening class of a series of science films, the basis of a night school course for adults, open to the public free of charge.

Arranged by the University of Chicago, the Erpi films unfold the secrets of nature in a manner easy to understand and enjoyable to observe.

Under the leadership of Paul Lange, science instructor at Ukiah high school, two films were shown Tuesday evening, "Mountain Building" and "Volcanoes." An extra film on the "Menace of the Fly" was also shown. The formation of Crater Lake, Grand Canyon, Yosemite, and the eruption of Lassen were among the many interesting scenes shown.

The films are sound records and were supplemented with a wealth of informal and most entertaining information given by Paul Lange, who also led the discussion following the showing of the films.

The classes will be held each Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the high school and are open to the public free of charge.

4-H, FFA Mobilization Slated on Treasure Isle

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The first nationwide mobilization of Future Farmers of America and 4-H Boys and Girls' clubs is set for the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island, Easter vacation week, April 2 to 8. The occasion will be the 12th Annual Interstate Junior Livestock Show.

Seven days replete with action will mark this national competition of these two major farm youth organizations, according to E. W. Stephens, manager. It is estimated that more than 1500 boys and girls will represent the highest achievements in livestock projects in the 4-H and Future Farmer groups.

The International Livestock Show of Chicago, the American Royal of Kansas City, and the Pacific International of Portland will all three be represented by youngsters who annually are strong contenders for championship honors. The show will be held in the magnificent livestock pavilion on Treasure Island, which is to be the setting of an entire series of exhibitions of national and international scope thruout the Exposition.

Entries in the show will be especially heavy from the western states that have, for the past 12 years, taken a major part in these annual junior competitions. However, there will be an impressive representation of the southwest and middle western states as well, from those sections where interest in this phase of the work of the Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs is keenest.

The show is being held on Treasure Island at the invitation of the management of the Golden Gate International Exposition which, together with various breed associations, is offering premiums totaling $20,000, the largest ever offered at any junior livestock show.

To us it is the perfect location and we congratulate the city of Ukiah for the vision in cooperating with the FHA, thus making it possible for us to realize a dream of years."

Bradley is associated in Ukiah with the California Automobile Association.

TEN YEARS AGO
March 9, 1929

Sheriff Byrnes and Deputies McCabe, Weger and Fisk staged a raid on a campground south of this place last Tuesday night.

The inquest on the deaths of George Bradley and Roy Landree, who were killed in the railroad wreck near Largo February 28, resulted in Martin F. Donohue, the conductor, and L. P. Mohn, the fireman of the passenger, both admitting that they had received train orders at Hopland to pass the freight train at the Largo siding and that they went on about 1,000 yards further and ran into the freight train; they gave no excuse for disobeying orders; there was no attempt to evade any questions and both men gave direct answers.

Joe Raymond, the government hunter, has recently poisoned four coyotes in the Potter Valley section that were killing sheep.

The town trustees of Willits are seriously contemplating purchasing a fire engine and all that now stands in the way is the cost. The San Francisco board of fire underwriters have promised to send a man there to readjust the rates and base them on a fire engine for additional fire protection.

Ranchers are now burning over brush land and many of the fires can be seen from town. This is the first time in the history of Mendocino county, so we are told, that brush could be burned during the first of March. A long cold spell was broken last week and we are now having near summer weather.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The big storm last Saturday again put the railroad between Willits and Eureka out of business. That night there were so many slides that no attempt was made to get a passenger train through and all the northbound passengers spent the night in Willits. On Monday the train also failed to get through and they are stalled somewhere out at the front. The worst slide is at Scotia Bluffs, where the whole mountain is gradually sliding into Eel river. The Fort Bragg railroad is also out of commission on account of slides and there were no trains Sunday.

Game Warden Charles Perkins of Fort Bragg does not let his fraternal affection for his brother, Fred, interfere with the performance of his duties in watching over the fish and game of the coast section. Brother Fred was caught in the act of fishing for trout out of season a few weeks ago, and has "fished up" a $20 fine out of his old brown jeans, while Brother Charlie smiled like a skunk eating hornets.

The offer of Tribuno and Barrish to pay local grape growers $14.30 a ton for a period of ten years as outlined in the Dispatch recently was turned down at a meeting of the growers this week. They claimed that they could not make more than the cost of cultivation on that price.

Charles D. Tribuno, treasurer of Tribuno and Garrish, left Monday for Europe where business pertaining to his company requires his presence.

Sergeant Harry Hollingsworth, recently discharged from the army, after being wounded in the battle of Argonne Wood, returned to his home this week. He was in the 61st infantry and out of his company of 250 men in the battle all but seven were hit at sometime or other and a great number killed.

Bert Miller and Fred Smith, who have gone into the hog business in a modest way, have three Berkshire sows at the barn north of town that have aroused the comment of local stockmen; two of the animals weigh 600 pound each and the third is very little smaller.

Sheriff Donohoe received word this week to the effect that H. Jennings had been arrested in Los Angeles, and left for the southern city to bring back the prisoner. It will be remembered that last fall Jennings and G. W. Chester, traveling opticians, obtained money in Covelo under false pretenses.

Mrs. Olive Gray of this city has secured the position of principal of the grammar school at Burlingame.

Recent developements that have recently come to light go to show that the owners of the vast bituminous coal beds on Eel river are confident of a great future for the deposit and have the utmost faith in the field proving a bonanza. For the past few months a gang of miners have been working on Eel river, opening up the coal veins and the result is said to be very promising.

It would be safe to say that half of our people are laid up with bad colds and the grippe. It keeps our doctors on the jump day and night.

Robert Duncan has purchased a new 40 horsepower Buick touring car. He drove the machine up from San Francisco last Friday.

Dr. McCowen reports the following weather conditions for the past week: Maximum temperature, 70 degrees; minimum, 31 degrees; rain, 1.50 inches; total rainfall for season, 54.55 inches; same date last season, 27.52.

It is not often that a burglar has the nerve to operate in this city, and then one has never been known before to enter the house of a printer in search of money, yet this incident really occured in Ukiah last Friday when the residence of D. W. Chilson on South State street was entered by a burglar, and a bank containing about $20 taken.

The boxing contest between Grover Binkeley of this city and Bill Christy of Lakeport, which will take place on March 17 at York and Cleland's hall under the auspices of the Ukiah Athletic Club, Inc., gives promise of being one of the hardest fought battles ever pulled off in this county.

Hop picking by machinery is a failure! Last season's experience by the Horst Bros. ranch and the experiments made in the attempt to overcome the defects in the machine cost the firm $40,000, which is a dead loss and the machine has been abandoned.

Total shipment of lumber from the coast ports of Mendocino county for the month of February was 2,349,000 feet and 12,000 railroad ties. This amount is below average and the decrease in the output was caused by heavy stroms in the past month, many heavy vessels being unable to make a landing.

Everyone you meet now will ask you when it is going to rain or will ask if it is hot enough for you. A good rain now would change the expressions on the faces of our local farmers and stockmen as grass and grain are needing rain badly.

The Yolo, Napa and Lake county papers are having a great deal to say about the establishment of an electric plant near the outlet of Clear Lake to furnish light and power to the valley below. Knowing the situation as we do from personal observation we can confidently predict great success for the enterprise if managed properly.

Fred Dashiell, charged with furnishing liquor to an Indian, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty as charged, and so was sentenced to three months in jail.

A lad of six summers, walking the streets of Ukiah beside his illustrious father, smoking a corn cob pipe filled with "long green," was one of the sights of the week. The father looked on with pride. He was making a man of the boy!

Jake Hyman, a resident of Cleone, was surprised one morning this week by finding a box at his door containing a male child. The waif was about two days old and there was nothing accompanying it ti indicate who had left it.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The ball given last Friday evening in honor of the completion of the railroad to Ukiah was a social success and the supper at the Elite was praised by all who feasted there as something elegant.

We are pleased to learn that C. I. Irvine has concluded to come back to Ukiah and reenter our business circle.

To all inquiries as to when passenger trains are to commence making daily trips, we would answer, next Monday.

Less than $2,000 of last year's taxes stand delinquent in this county now, and the most of that amount is on claims, and non-collectible.

Last December the stage going from Point Arena in this county to Ingrams in Sonoma county was stopped by highwaymen and robbed, and the officers finally came to the conclusion that two brothers by the name of Gorton were the guilty parties. H. L. Gorton was recently arrested in Missouri and has been brought back to this state for trial.

J. G. Brown, representing the Pacific Coast Gas Light and Fuel company, has been laboring with our citizens for several days, endeavoring to get them to take $10,000 stock in a gas works for Ukiah; but his success has not been equal to his expectations.

T. B. Coleman and J. K. Millford, two young gentlemen from Abbeville, South Carolina, have come into our midst to reside. They think Ukiah a lovely place and their opinion of California is most favorable. Let them be encouraged.

William White, for an indecent exposure of his person, on the streets of Point Arena, has been lodged in jail for 40 days, not being able to pay the $40 fine imposed.

HISTORIC CANVASES SEEN AT EXPOSITION

Authentic in historic detail—four huge oil paintings, depicting important early day events in the Redwood Empire counties—were taken to Treasure Island this week to be hung in the east wing of the colorful Redwood Empire building.

The paintings, said to be the largest canvasses ever turned out north of San Francisco, are the work of Al Sondag, famous painter of early California historical events, whose collection of old missions is among the finest in existence.

The pictures are to be arranged in a Redwood setting in the left wing of the Redwood Empire building. Each canvas is seven feet in height and fourteen feet in length.

Sir Francis Drake Canvas

Marin county is represented by the landing of Sir Francis Drake, on the Marin coast, with the British officer planting the flag of Great Britain on the shore as bewildered Indians look on. The bronze plaque which Drake placed on the shore, and which was recently unearthed near the scene of the landing of the Golden Hind, is prominently featured.

Raising of the Bear Flag in Sonoma plaza is pictured as Sonoma county's feature. Sondag has gone to great length to carry out the historical authenticity, his canvas showing the Sonoma Mission, old barracks and other buildings which still stand in the mission city. Likenesses of members of the Bear Flag party, including Captain Swift, are true to life, Sondag having reproduced them from old tintype portraits and other antique pictures furnished by relatives of the participants.

For Mendocino county, Sondag has realistically recreated an ox-team dragging heavy logs over a corduroy road—reminiscent of the earliest days of lumbering in the great redwood forests.

General Grant

Equally as colorful as the other three is the fourth canvas showing General Grant, then Captain Grant of the U. S. Army, at historic old Fort Humboldt.

The paintings were turned out by Sondag in his tiny studio in the third floor of the Masonic Temple at Santa Rosa. In order to carry out his commission with accuracy, Artist Sondag devoted many weeks to historical research, even going so far as to send to England for old histories containing pictures of Drake and his associates.

An English twopence, bearing the diminutive imprint of the Golden Hind, furnished the design for the Drake ship pictured on the Exposition painting.

At the close of the Exposition, the paintings will be returned to their respective counties, the Bear Flag party to the property of Sonoma county, probably to be hung in the courthouse here, Sondag said yesterday.

Mendocino Co. Leads State in No. Deer Killed

Mendocino county rated first in the number of deer slain in 1938, according to Herbert C. Davis, executive officer of the Division of Fish and Game, with 2700 bucks or nearly one-fifth of the state total, accounted for during the 1938 season.

A total of 35,045 bucks were killed during the deer season, he pointed out in his report. The totals were based on the number of deer tags purchased and returned marked, Davis stated. Almost half the state total were killed in 11 counties of the state.

Mendocino county was first with 2700 slain, Modoc second with 1832, and Lake county third with 1003. The other eight counties are: Fresno, Plumas, Tehama, Humboldt, Tulare, Los Angeles, Siskiyou, and San Luis Obispo.

In all, Davis stated, 76,803 deer were slain in these counties, or 48 per cent of the total kill for the state.

Charges are Filed Against Minehan

Dan Minehan was taken to Fort Bragg Saturday morning to appear before Justice of the Peace J. G. Gildersleeve, when charges were filed against Minehan and the amount of bail set.

Minehan confessed to beating and attacking Mrs. Mildred Collins at an early hour Sunday morning, leaving her unconscious lying in an alley near Oak street, Fort Bragg.

Mrs. Collins is a daughter of M. C. Moore, who came to Ukiah Friday to visit his son, Coleman Moore, who is confined in the County hospital. It was on account of the illness of Coleman that the father came to California from Detroit about two weeks ago. He is endeavoring to secure work on the coast in order to make a home for his daughter, Mrs. Collins, and her eight-year-old daughter, Norma Lee.

Mrs. Collins is a member of the Baptist church of Fort Bragg and has friends in the church and congregation and in the town who are coming to her assistance.

St. Helena Invites Dr. Abbott to Join Medical Staff

An official invitation has been extended by St. Helena Sanitarium to Dr. G. K. Abbott to join the medical staff of that famous institution as surgeon. The official invitation followed an unofficial invitation to accept the work at the sanitarium some nine or ten months ago.

When questioned on the matter of the invitation from St. Helena and the prospect of his leaving Ukiah, Dr. Abbott said, "The situation as reported is somewhat in advance of my information. It is true that the invitation has been extended but there has been no definite decision in the matter. It takes some time and considerable planning for a doctor to change location, even if he decides to do so."

Drs. G. K. and Cora Richards Abbott have been practicing physicians in Ukiah for five years and have become well established in the community.

Science Principles Put to Practice

Science is taking a practical turn in the minds of pupils at Willow-Lima grammar school these days, under the direction of Mrs. Vivien Smith, principal, and Mrs. Ella Butler Kneeland, teacher.

The upper grade students, who are studying magnets, have constructed a rotating motor to demonstrate the simple principle of electricity. Next week the boys are planning to install a door bell in their room.

The lower grades, after studying the force of air, have performed several simple experiments. They have also constructed a play and health store, in which they are entertained and at the same time learn courtesy in waiting upon customers, making change and learning which foods are healthful.

Lakeport Market Week To Draw Big Crowd

LAKEPORT.—With a program designed to meet the immediate problems of many of California's specialty farm crops, northern California's eighth Marketing Institute, to be held here March 17, is expected to draw a record-breaking crowd from more than 20 northern counties of the state.

Sponsored jointly by the Lake county Farm Bureau, the growers and shippers of Lake county, and the Lake county agricultural extension service, this year's Institute presents a battery of outstanding agricultural experts, including:

Dr. Ira D. Cardiff of Yakima, Washington, nationally known agricultural chemist; Robert Wilson, of San Fernando, member of the California Agricultural Conservation committee; Dr. Arthur Shultis of Berkeley, extension specialist in farm management for the University of California; Frank Swett of Berkeley, formerly president of the California Pear Growers association; Thomas A. Robertson of Ventura county, chairman of the California Farm Bureau federation's vegetable department and member of the California Agricultural Prorate commission; Harry J. Eustace of San Francisco, vice-president, Agricultural Trade Relations, Inc.; Dr. Von T. Ellsworth of Berkeley, director, research department, California Farm Bureau federation, and its legislative representatives; and Holmes Bishop of Orange county, president, Associated Farmers of California.

Recognized as the outstanding annual agricultural meeting of the state, the Lakeport Marketing Institute offers growers a clearing house for the discussion of pertinent problems, says L. C. Barnard, Lake county farm advisor, organizer of the Institute, and responsible for its unusual success.

The program on March 17, explains Barnard, is especially designed for problems faced by growers of decidious fruits. Exceptional interest, he adds, has been aroused in the address to be given by Dr. Cardiff, who is scheduled to talk on "The Truth About Spray Residue," including recommendations for changes in the regulations of the Pure Foods and Drugs administration.

A subject that has already drawn much advance interest, also, is the discussion of the "1939 Tree Fruit Agreement in Relation to Pear Growers."

Other subjects on the program of the all-day session in Lakeport include: "The 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program;" "Profitable Diversification for the Fruit Grower;" "Increasing Incomes to Fruit and Vegetable Growers Through Changes in Marketing Practices;" "Farm Bureau's 1939 Legislative Program;" and "The March of the Associated Farmers."

An additional feature of the meeting is an evening banquet to be held in the Big Valley community hall, over which George Voss, county key banker, is to preside. Presentation and adoption of resolutions will follow an open forum and question-box discussion in charge of C. A. Benson, regional chairman and member of the board of directors of the California Farm Bureau federation.

Biggar to Meet With Prison Bd. Over Road Camp

Senator George Biggar will meet with the State Prison Board when it convenes at Folsom prison on Saturday, March 25, to discuss the establishment of a state prison camp on the Mendocino coast for construction work on the Shoreline highway.

According to A. R. O'Brien, president of the state prison directors, there is a good probability that a camp will be established on the coast to start work on the extension of the Shoreline highway northward from Rockport to Ferndale, if the suitable arrangements with the highway commission and the counties through which the highway will pass can be made. Biggar will meet with the group to do what he can in working out the details.

WOMEN'S SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS

JEAN MARIE KINSLER • SOCIETY EDITOR

Hobby Day Program Is Developed for Club

Saturday Afternoon club members were given an insight into a variety of hobbies, ranging from the currently popular amateur photography to the mounting of seaweed, at their Hobby Day program Saturday.

Mrs. Irving M. Brazier, program chairman, opened the program by presenting Miss Carol Kasch in three piano solos, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, "Marche Hongroise" by Kowalki, and "Rustle of Spring" of Sinding.

Mrs. Dorothy Leonard then exhibited a number of individual pieces from a varied collection of Early American glassware; and talked to club members about the history of the pieces, stressing the fact that many home makers are unaware of the value of many types of glassware they may possess.

Arthur Bradley discussed amateur photography in an interesting manner, exhibiting some of his work to illustrate the subject.

Miss Grace Toles has developed to a high degree the collection of what were formerly known as "parlor games," and she told club members of her interest in them; as an interesting sidelight, Miss Toles exhibited 30 souvenir spoons collected as mementos from expositions and other major events in the history of San Francisco and Sacramento.

Miss Louise McDonald, biology teacher of Ukiah high school, gave as her contribution to the program an account of practical and inexpensive hobbies. She gave a demonstration of bookbinding in a simple form, and illustrated the mounting of seaweed; the speaker also showed an attractive collection of pottery which she made in a summer school course at Humboldt State college.

Following the program hour, the members viewed the current art exhibit, which was closed Saturday evening with a total registration of 270.

Aid Boy Scouts

A business meeting was held under the direction of Mrs. A. A. Smith, first vice-president of the club, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Lon Gibson. Outstanding in the transaction of business was the decision to contribute $5.00 to the Boy Scout fund now being raised in Ukiah.

The meeting was concluded with a tea service by the hostesses of the day, Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Mrs. Guy Redwine, Mrs. Charlotte M. Collins and Mrs. Jessie M. Brunner. Yellow predominated in the decorative scheme for the tables and club rooms, in which fruit blossoms and acacia were combined in attractive arrangements.

Laura Kaiser Presents Travelogue

A Mediterranean tour and a trip through England and Scotland were enjoyed by members of Ukiah Business and Professional club Thursday evening under the leadership of Miss Laura Kaiser.

It was a rare treat for the club as Miss Kaiser traveled from city to city along the historic shores of the inland sea, translating as she went, the beauty, the history, the poetry, the romance, the modern life of those shores.

Miss Kaiser is a trained and eloquent speaker; the beautiful imagery of her own mind was reflected from her fine background of literature, history and art and her talent as a reader and love of poetry were jewels in a travelogue pattern exquisitely portrayed.

Ukiah is indeed fortunate in having as one of her members a woman with Miss Kaiser's ability, talent and training; one, too, who is most gracious and generous in sharing her advantages of culture and travel and her ability to so beautifully express both.

Many pictures were shown illustrating the trip.

During the evening Mrs. Beatrice Sweet sang beautifully two songs, "Red Sails in the Sunset" and "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky." She was accompanied by Mrs. Nannette Hofman.

The committee to which the club owes a charming program was headed by Opal Foster, assisted by Freda Joseph, Fern Busch, Velma Maney, Rose Gibson, Leona Mazzoni, Nannette Hofman.

The clubrooms carried out the travelogue idea with ships and other emblems of the sea and travel decorating the tables. Spring flowers in abundance created a background.

Miss Patsy Foster followed her sister with two piano solos, "Innocence" by Bergmuller, and "At Camp" by Ella Ketterer. Miss Kathleen Thurston sang two Irish ballads, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and 'Sweetheart Darling," accompanied by Mrs. Conoly.

The dining room and lodge hall were beautifully decorated with pussy willows and daffodils. Table decorations were in the Irish holiday theme. Tall cream-colored candles were placed in green holders, and the linens carried out the green and cream colors. Refreshments were served at the end of the program.

MATTERS TAKEN UP BY REDWOOD EMPIRE GROUP

Goes on Record on Legislative Bills Proposed

A number of resolutions were adopted and propositions affirmed at the miniature convention of the Redwood Empire association held Thursday in Ukiah. These recommendations will be presented at the annual convention.

The convention adopted a resolution urging the inclusion of the Napa and Del Norte county highway projects in the 1939-41 biennius budget.

The delegates reaffirmed the oft-repeated stand against diversion of the gas tax funds.

A recommendation will be forwarded to the State Association of Supervisors which meets next week in Sacramento asking support of Senate Bill 1123, which makes the Sausalito lateral and section of highway north to the Sonoma county line a part of the secondary highway system.

The recommendation was also made that the 3 percent monthly tax on truck business be placed in the state highway fund and removed from the general fund.

The convention endorsed Senate Bills 140 and 3561 which will return the control of San Francisco harbor to the city and county of San Francisco. It is now under control of the state.

The convention went on record as opposed to Assembly Bill 197 to create a State Department of Recreation. Opposition to the bill is based largely on the wording of the measure.

The formation of a state advertising fund was advocated, providing funds are made available from other than existing appropriations.

A bill, introduced in Congress by Congressman Lea was endorsed. This bill sets up a promotional fund to stimulate travel in the United States rather than in foreign countries.

Support was voiced for Senate Bill 191, providing 90 days summer vacation in the schools of the state.

The recommendations made by the Shoreline highway association were endorsed by the larger group.

Among well known figures in the Redwood Empire who attended the convention were: Frank Doyle, Tom Maxwell and R. A. Thompson, representing the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway association; John M. Ratto, representative of San Francisco's board of supervisors; P. E. Harding, district engineer of the highway commission from San Francisco; E. R. Green, district engineer of the highway division; Senator G. M. Biggar, Covelo; Les McCallum and J. J. Caylor, Point Arena; Wm. Thomas, Ukiah; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Spengler, of Tan Oak Park; W. W. Whitney, Willits; Don Macmillan, Hopland. The members of the board of supervisors of Mendocino county and many other representative citizens were in attendance.

Panther Caught On Singley Ranch

A panther which had been killing lambs on the Singley ranch on the Orr's Springs road was captured at an early hour Monday morning by Herbert Singley who was tracking the animal with his dogs.

The panther was caught in a trap recently but broke away after dragging the trap for some distance. There was fresh blood on the trap when it was found but no trace of the animal. Singley took up the trail of the beast and tracked it down.

The hunter and dogs remained on the trail in search of a second animal which has been doing considerable damage on the ranch.

BPWC Marches Under Standards of Federation

Ukiah Business and Professional Women's club formally federated with the district, state and national federation of clubs at a special meeting Friday night in the Canton room of the Palace hotel.

Miss Lelah Butts, district organizer, assisted by Estelle C. Close of the Santa Rosa club, federated the local organization. Mrs. Drusia Harris, president of the club, acted as chairman.

Sixteen members of Santa Rosa's Business and Professional Women's club came to Ukiah for the meeting, extending congratulations and the hand of good will and fellowship to the local group. In the group of 16 from the neighboring club there were six past presidents, the acting president and two district officers.

By an odd coincidence there were six past president and the acting president of Ukiah's club at the meeting. Twenty-six members signed the charter of federation and paid dues to the state and national organizations.

Retains Officers

By unanimous vote of the club, the present officers are retained until the end of the present club year, and the membership of the club and all plans for the year will be undisturbed by the step to federation.

The charter will remain open for a month or more. It will close in time for the local club to be formally received into the district organization at the district convention to be held in Vallejo late in April. Ukiah club will be among the organizations receiving recognition at the state convention to be held in California in May. Any member of the club may become a charter member of the federated club by signing before the charter closes.

United Club

The strongest sentiment expressed not only by the local club members but also by the guests was that the local club continue under the same standards of loyalty, unity and friendship that have marked the club since its organization ten years ago, carrying forward under added standards the rich background of those ten years and the total membership of the club.

First Fruits

One of the first fruits of federation was tasted in the cordial friendship and hearty greetings of the 16 women who, twice in one week, made the trip from Santa Rosa to Ukiah to assist the local club in building the bridge which will give easy access to other clubs and other friendships in the district, state and nation, and beyond, if opportunity presents, to those groups in other nations organized under the standard of the Business and Professional Women.

The charter of federation was signed by past presidents in the order of office, by the present officers of the club and members as follows:

Katherine Foster, Vivien Smith, Olive E. Busch, Esther Redwine, Grace Emery Holzhauser, Louise Bernhard, Drusia Harris, Bess Eversole, Celia Morris, Ethel Anker, Caroline Frather, Bess I. Jamison, Ruth Kington, May V. Anderson, Joan N. Fraser, Carolyn T. Crocker, Marthe M. Barnum, Opal Foster, Olive Higgins, Ruby Gobalet, Clare Bernard, Zella E. Bartlett, Nannette Hofman, May L. Jones, Geraldine Youd, Mabel Dalton.

Members of Santa Rosa club in attendance were: Bessie Corrick, Aimee Drake, Lelah L. Butts, Estelle C. Close, Bess Pecot, Mrs. A. M. Jensen, Caroline L. Weber, Ada Wisecarver, Maie Scott, Frede Lucas, Emily McCawley, Helen McMannis, Margaret Mayo, Harriet Burroughs, Mabel Kibbee, and Margaret Wightman.

Giants-Raiders Ring Down Local Curtain On 1939 Cage Season

The battle of the century, or perhaps another miniature civil war, will break loose in Ukiah this Saturday evening when the 20-30 club's Red Raiders and Bill Williams' Redwood Valley Giants finally come together on the high school basketball court to decide which of the local teams holds the upper hand.

The game, as far as Ukiah basketball fans are concerned, is a "natural" and has been all season, but nothing definite could be worked out in the getting together of the two squads until this late date, no matter how loud the fans asked for such a meet. As it is, the tilt will be a worthwhile contest with which to ring down the curtain on basketball in Ukiah.

This will be the last appearance of the Raiders this season, while the Giants will go on to compete in the independent team tournament to be held in Willits March 18th.

Announcement of the match came late Monday afternoon after a hasty conference between managers Art Skinner of the Raiders and Williams, after Williams had cancelled the scheduled Fort Bragg Native Sons game which was to have been played on the local floor this week end. With the cancellation, the Giants were left with an open date and the Raiders were out looking for competition, thus the battle of the century for Ukiah came about.

The game itself will probably be one of the fastest that the gym has ever seen. With Oolie and Veikko Soinila, and Don Weselsky holding down high scoring honors for the Giants, and Art Poma, Bill Shoemake and Paul Hansen hanging on to a like position for the Raiders, there is no telling what the score will be like when the final whistle blows. It is a cinch bet, though, that the game will give the two referees a good workout and might even be billed as requiring three, because of the natural rivalry between the two teams. Both squads have had a better than average season, and are jealous of their records. To what lengths they will go to defend that honor is hard telling, but local fans can rest assured that it won't be just an ordinary basketball game this Saturday night; more than likely it will be the closest they will ever come to seeing legalized mayhem.

Only man who may be missing from the two line-ups will be "Frenchy" Sanchez, diminutive guard for the Raiders, who is out of town this week and may not return in time for the game. To replace him, Skinner will probably have to call upon the services of either Jack Russell or Walt Buchholz. The Giants expect to have their full squad for the tilt.

The preliminary game will find the Ukiah Rockets continuing on their sporadic flight, when they tangle with the fast Willits CCC camp squad. Manager Joe Woodruff states that this game will be almost as hot as the main event, if not hotter.

11 Tourneys Slated for Local Links

2 New Tournaments Scheduled by Committee

With 11 tournaments already lined up for the local golf links, Ukiah's tournament-minded golfers will have a good chance to show their wares this summer, according to J. O. "Doc" Snyder and Bob Clark, two-man committee who worked out the tourney dates.

Two new rounds of play were inaugurated in this year's schedule, according to Snyder. The women's club handicap championship and the all-city championship tournaments will be added to the schedule. These two meets, according to Snyder, should find anyone who can swing a driver, out on the course, competing for the top prizes.

There are still several dates open for service club and other group tournaments, Snyder stated. The tourneys listed below, he said, are open to any and all players. The schedule as announced by the two-man committee is as follows:

Sunday, March 12: Flag Tournament, men and women, handicap.

Sunday, March 26: Two ball mixed foursome tourney.

Sunday, April 16: Palace Hotel Spring Handicap; qualify April 16, first and second rounds April 23, semi-finals April 30, and finals, 36 holes, May 7.

Sunday, May 14: Women's Club Handicap championship, Richfield trophy; qualify May 14, matches to be run off each week, 18 holes.

Sunday, May 28: Two ball Scotch foursome.

Sunday, June 4: City Championship, Scratch, Redwood Journal trophy; quality June 4, first and second rounds June 11, semi-finals on June 18, finals June 25th.

Tuesday, July 4: Fancy Dress and Blow Off tournament, handicap; prizes for most comical costume.

Sunday, Aug. 13: Obstacle tournament.

Sunday, Sept. 17: Old Men (over 40) versus Young Men.

Sunday, Oct. 1: Bi-county Championships, Scratch; qualify Oct. 1, first and second rounds Oct. 8th, semi-finals Oct. 15, and finals Oct. 22.

Sunday, Nov. 19: Turkey Shoot.

Snyder stated that it was the intention of the committee to try to arrange for a series of Lake county and Ukiah challenge matches, if possible, along with one with Healdsburg and Willits. The regular ladder tournaments will be run over periods of two months this

SLUGGERS HOLD FIRST WORKOUT NEXT SUNDAY

Ottosen Issues Call For Ball Team Candidates

(By Phil McKinley)

It's play ball at Talmage March 12, as Manager "Foggy" Ottosen issues a call for candidates to try out for the 1939 edition of the Talmage Sluggers at the Mendocino State hospital diamond at 1:00 p. m.

Among those expected to attend the first practice session are District Attorney Jim Busch, Ottosen, Fred McKenzie, Al Sousa, Pat Crudo, John Grilli, Roy Soper, Bill Shoemake, Joe Woodruff, Roy Szanik, Art Poma, Glenn Vaughn, Jim Williams, Cyril Vassar, Ernie Mosna, and Joe Chamberlain. Most of these were included on last year's Talmage nine which found Mott catching, Mosna pitching, Crudo on first, Soper or Shoemake on second, Sousa or Woodruff on third, Busch at short, Ottosen in left field, Szanik in center, and McKenzie in right.

However, Manager Ottosen declared that no positions are cinched and that all newcomers will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their baseball prowess. The most hotly contested positions will probably be on the mound and at the initial and keystone sacks.

Among the new candidates for the Sluggers will be Glenn Vaughn, brother of Arky Vaughn of Pittsburgh Pirate fame. Advance reports state that Vaughn is a capable fielder as well as a good hitter. Jim Williams of Hopland will make a bid for pitching honors. He has been away from baseball for three or four years but should prove an asset to the local squad. Joe Chamberlain, a patient at the State hospital who has played for Seattle, Dallas, and the Chicago White Sox, will also try out. Cyril Vassar of Hopland will seek a spot on the infield. John Grilli is known to most local fans, being at one time a Talmage Slugger.

April 2 will find the Sluggers playing a practice game with Hopland high school. This game will allow most of the candidates to show what they can do in the thick of the fight. Covelo comes to Talmage April 9 for another practice game. Then, on April 16, the local season officially opens with the Talmage Sluggers battling the powerful Bear Photo nine from San Francisco.

"We intend to have a ball club that will win 75 percent of the games played this year. The boys that show up for practice will be the ones who play in the games. Last year's shortcoming was the lack of practice," asserted Manager Ottosen.

Seabiscuit Due To Be Retired To Stud Farm

Seabiscuit is coming to Mendocino county to live.

This was made certain Wednesday when Charles S. Howard's trainer, Tom Smith, stated that the mighty little race horse would be retired to stud shortly and no effort will be made to bring him back to racing for at least a year.

Smith made this announcement at the Howard stables at Santa Anita race track, where Seabiscuit has been confined with a ruptured suspensory ligament which he suffered in a race a couple of weeks ago.

"I refuse to run the chance of having Seabiscuit break down," Smith said. "He is too grand a horse. I believe there would be a chance of getting him ready for the Hollywood Gold Cup this summer, but I don't want to take any chances.

"I don't want him to ever look bad in any of his races. I want the public to remember him always as the truly great horse that he is."

Smith gave no definite date as to when Seabiscuit will be transferred to the Howard Stud Farm north of Ukiah.

GIANTS-RAIDERS 'ROLL UP SLEEVES' FOR SAT. TILT

Two Teams Promise Hard Fighting Game

Like two bulldogs, the Redwood Valley Giants and the 20-30 club's Red Raiders have been glaring at each other all week and licking their chops in anticipation of Saturday night's clash between the two teams.

When they do come together this week end, fans can be sure that it will not be just an ordinary basketball game; it will be a fast, high-scoring game that will see no punches pulled and will probably find more than one man taken out of the game because of four personal fouls. Manager Bill Williams, of the Giants, has been wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to get Jim Busch, who has quite a reputation as a referee in these parts, to help out with the officiating Saturday night. The thought of the District Attorney on the floor, he believes, might help the boys restrain themselves from committing mayhem.

The game is a natural for Ukiah and should draw a large crowd, as the two teams both have better than average records, although the Giants have a decided edge on the number of points scored through the season, the Raiders have just as good a reputation. In fact, both teams will be out to ring down the basketball curtain in Ukiah in a blaze of glory.

With Oolie and Veikko Soinila on the firing line for the Giants, and Art Poma and Bill Shoemake on the Raiders' forward wall, the game should develop into a four-man scoring duel that will keep the scorekeepers more than busy. The Raiders might be one up on the Giants when they take the floor, as Don Weselsky, Manager Williams' hard-working center, may be out of the line-up, while Paul Hansen will be in for the Raiders. Both boys are high scorers, and with Hansen in and Weselsky out, there will be a little unevenness in the two teams that might spell defeat or victory for one or the other.

On the other end of the court both teams will be minus a man in the guarding zone, "Frenchy" Sanchez out of the Raider line-up because of an extended business trip, and Buck Ford of the Giants suffering a badly wrenched knee.

Jess Rawles will be back in the line-up for the Giants though, at guard, and should give big "Moose" Ganter lots to think about out there on the court.

Manager Art Skinner of the Raiders stated this week that, win, lose or draw, his team will put up the hardest fought game of their careers this Saturday. They won't try anything too fancy but he believes that they might have something up their sleeves that will puzzle the Giants somewhat.

Led by Earl and Joe Woodruff, the Ukiah Rockets will take on the Willits CCC camp squad in the preliminary which will start at 7:30 p. m.

Howard Horse Takes $100,000 Race Saturday

SANTA ANITA.—Charles S. Howard's $7000 horse, Kayak II, came through here Saturday to win the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap by a length and a half over his closest rival, Whichcee, and see a new track record for the mile and a quarter grind of 2:01 2/5, smashing the track mark of Stagehand by a fifth of a second.

Kayak II, who Howard paid only $7000 for in Buenos Aires two years ago, took over the burden of the race after Seabiscuit, the original Howard entry in the race, pulled up lame after a race. In a radio interview Saturday, owner Howard stated that it would be five or six months before the 'Biscuit was ready to race again, and then he would probably only run one more big race before being retired to his Mendocino county stud farm.

Kayak II was ridden by jockey Johnny Adams.

SUIT AGAINST JOHN COLLIER IS DISMISSED

4-Year Controversy Results in Victory For Collier

After a period of approximately four years, the libel suit brought against the Hon. John Collier, United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs, by Frederick G. Collett, executive representative of a California Indian organization known as Indians of California, Inc., ended in a victory for Commissioner Collier. The case was dismissed Saturday by Justice Oscar R. Luhring of the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, in Washington, D. C.

The action arose out of the printing of several articles in the magazine, "Indians at Work," a publication of the United States office of Indian Affairs under the authority of the Department of the Interior. In his complaint, Collett set forth that the article published in "Indians at Work" was defamatory of him. This article referred to a letter addressed to auxiliary officers and members of the Indian organization, and bearing the typewritten signature of Congressman Clarence F. Lea of California.

The article characterized this letter as a forgery, and stated it had been distributed on the Hoopa Reservation in northern California for the purpose of influencing the voting at an Indian election to determine the acceptance or rejection of the provisions of the Wheeler-Howard Act. The complaint did not deny as untrue the charge made in the article that the organization, of which Mr. Collett is executive representative, had obtained large sums of money from the poorest of California Indians under false pretenses. Collett did, however, deny this charge insofar as it related to him. One of the articles in question also stated that Mr. Collett had been disbarred from appearing before the Department of the Interior as representative or agent for the Indians.

Mr. Collett brought suit against Commissioner Collier in the District court at Washington, D. C., for $200,000 damages, charging that the articles were libelous.

Among the defenses set up and pleaded by Commissioner Collier was that of truth and justification of the statements in the articles. Shouldering the burden of proving the truth of the published statements, attorneys for the defense took more than a hundred depositions all over California, choosing as witnesses many representative members of Mr. Collett's own organization. After a nine months' continuance requested by Mr. Collett, the case was to have been tried before a Washington jury this winter.

New Federal Rule

The adoption of the new Federal rules of civil procedure, however, provided a short cut to a final decision. This case is the first important litigation in the District of Columbia to be settled as a result of the Federal court pretrial procedure provided by Rule 16. By agreement between counsel, sufficient facts were agreed upon at the pretrial hearing to enable the case to be passed upon by motion for summary judgment.

In dismissing the case, the court having had a pretrial hearing at which testimony was taken, findings made and argument heard, ruled in effect that the Commissioner of Indian Affairs was within the scope of his authority in denouncing the letter.

ROCKEY TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Threats, Hostile Acts Cause Fear for His Life

"I had to shoot them before they shot me, I had no other reason." With these words, Guy Rockey, Indian, on trial for the fatal shooting of Pat Heffron, white, and John McNeill, Indian, on the Sherwood Reservation January 3rd, summed up the whole affair.

Appearing on the stand Thursday morning in his own defense, Rockey stated the events leading up to the fatal shooting. Rockey was called to the stand by his attorneys, Lilburn Gibson and Wayne P. Burke, after Mrs. Rockey and her three children, Frieda, Phyllis and Maxine, had testified that there was no bad feeling between Rockey and McNeill on Christmas eve, when the two men attended a party at the home of Brown Ray in Willits.

Good Friends

According to Rockey, he had been the best of friends with McNeill up until the fatal shooting. He had driven the older man to the Ray party and had had no quarrels with him in the several years that he had known him. He related substantially the same account of the shooting that Attorney Gibson told the jury at the opening of the trial.

Bad Reputation

Rockey stated that although he had heard that McNeill carried a pistol, and had a bad reputation, which he had assertedly threatened several other fellows on the Reservation with, he and the old man had always been good friends. The same with Heffron, whom he had only known a short time.

He admitted that the three were under the influence of liquor at the time of the shooting.

Handed a copy of the signed confession he had made in District Attorney Busch's office the next day, he stated that he had objected to the part that read that McNeill had said they might as well give up the trip if Heffron couldn't keep on the road. He stated that he had made the statement to Heffron, but that it had not been removed from the record of the confession.

Wednesday's session of the Guy Rockey murder trial came to a dramatic close late in the afternoon when Brown Ray, one of the chief witnesses for the defense, stated that John McNeill had stated to him less than two hours before the shooting, "I'll get that G—— d—— Rockey."

Brown Ray, Indian, was the last witness to appear on the stand for the afternoon and made his startling statement while relating the incidents leading up to the shooting, as he saw them. He stated that he and his wife arrived on the Reservation about 11:00 o'clock the morning of the shooting. They found the three men trying to get Heffron's car out of the mud where it was stuck. McNeill was sitting in the back seat of the car and asked Ray to help him out and over to his cabin. As he was getting out of the car, Ray said, he stated that "I'll fix that G—— d—— Rockey," and then went on into his cabin.

In the meantime, according to Ray's story, Heffron and Rockey had tied a rope from their car to Ray's and were able to get the car out of the mud. Heffron attempted to back the car to the McNeill cabin, but was unable to do so. Rockey then got behind the wheel and backed the car up, according to Ray's testimony.

At this point the trial was recessed until 10:00 a. m. Thursday by Superior Judge W. D. L. Held, in whose court the case is being tried.

Missing Pistol

Previous to the Ray restimony, Rockey's attorneys, Lilburn Gibson and Wayne P. Burke, had produced a pistol of McNeill's in a surprise move. The pistol was known to have belonged to McNeill who had, assertedly, threatened to use it on various people in times past, but had been mysteriously missing since the afternoon of the killing.

In the hearing of the killing held before Justice of the Peace Will Van Dyke late in January, Stephen Knight, special Indian Service deputy, had stated that he had made a thorough search of the McNeill cabin for the pistol after the killing but had been unable to find it.

Taken As Souvenir

The defense called Mrs. Annie Whipple of Covelo to the stand and ascertained that she was a relative-in-law of McNeill. Then she produced a round bundle of cloth which she stated she had taken from the McNeill cabin on January 6th as a souvenir of the old man. She stated that she did not know that it contained the pistol, and had only discovered the fact early this week. A later witness, Mrs. Myrtle McCoy, living on the Vichy road, stated that she cleaned the McNeill cabin shortly after the killing and had found the pistol in a box of old clothes. She had wrapped it up and placed it in the woodshed, not knowing that this was the gun that the officers had been looking for.

The pistol was later identified by several witnesses as belonging to McNeill.

Most of the trial Wednesday was taken up by a constant stream of character witnesses who stated that Rockey was well liked in the Sherwood community and that he had a good reputation. Some of them, when asked about the reputation of McNeill and Heffron, stated that they had bad reputations.

Among those appearing were: Harry M. Burke, county clerk; Frank Poe, William Sloan, Bessie Sutherland, George Fales, Edgar Jones, Lew James, L. S. Lake Reported Down to New Danger Mark

LAKEPORT.—Prospects for a substantial amount of irrigation water from Clear Lake this summer will be extremely poor unless there is considerable more rainfall within the next few weeks, according to officials of the Clear Lake Water company.

At the present time the lake, at the Rumsey gauge, shows a level of only 3.45 feet above zero. The maximum height to which the lake is allowed to rise is 7.56 feet and, last year at this time, company officials were battling to release surplus water to prevent the lake from rising above that point.

Officials point out that a certain amount of water has to be accounted for as natural evaporation during the summer and so they cannot let the level fall much below the three-foot mark for irrigation purposes. They are looking for the new storms to provide enough water for adequate irrigation of Yolo county land that depends upon the lake for their water.

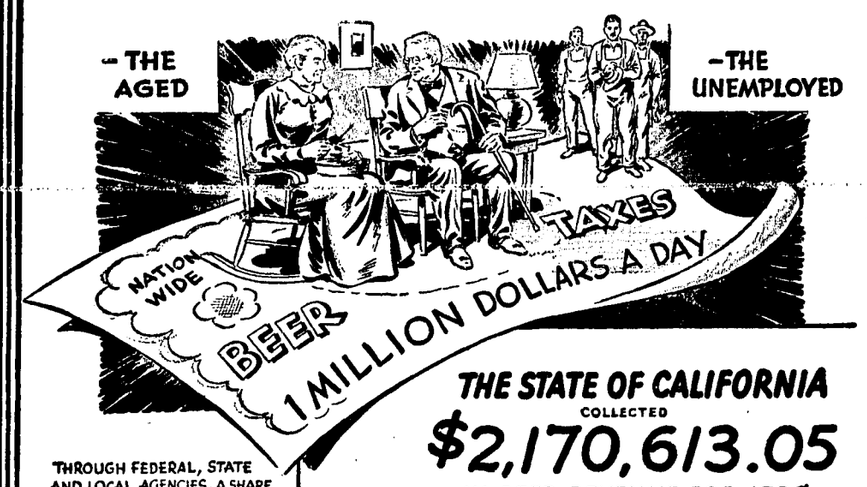
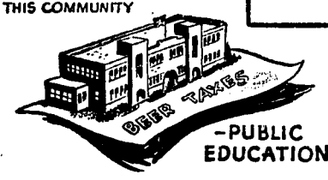
BEER TAXES HELP SUPPORT THEM!



THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA COLLECTED $2,170,613.05 IN BEER REVENUE FOR 1938 (SOURCE OF DATA: STATE LIQUOR ADMINISTRATION)

THROUGH FEDERAL, STATE AND LOCAL AGENCIES, A SHARE OF THE NATION'S HUGE $400 MILLION YEARLY BEER REVENUE COMES BACK TO BENEFIT THIS COMMUNITY



—PUBLIC EDUCATION

—PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

BEER'S nation-wide taxes of a million dollars a day make it possible for the government to provide many things that would otherwise increase everybody's taxes.

In preserving this revenue for the nation, the brewers recognize that the retailing of beer must give no offense to anyone.

It is not, of course, the brewers' responsibility to enforce the law. But they are cooperating with all enforcement officials . . . to see to it that the laws you have made are rigidly observed.

May we send you a booklet discussing this forward-looking program of the brewing industry? Address: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th St., New York, N. Y.
